PIANO PLAYER DIES WHEN HIS BOAT CAPSIZES

Cameron Bushey Near Exhaustion in Effort to Save Vincent Chicco.

Vincent Chicco, 20, a pianist and entertainer at Brighton beach, was drowned about 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon when he was washed from a boat which he was rocking to frighten other members of his party. Cameron Bushey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bushey, Appleton, was nearly drowned in an attempt to rescue Chicco who was unable to swim. Three other members of the party also were nearly exhausted after a long fight with high waves.

Chicco, with Bushey, Arnold Loyez, Rosa Bozeman and George Pennington, the last three members of the beach orchestra, dressed in bathing suits had rowed out into the lake where the water was deep enough to dive and all but Bozeman and Chicco left the boat. When the boys returned to the boat Chicco began to rock it until a big wave swept over them, capsizing the small craft and dumping the boys into the water. It was not until then that other members of the party learned that Chicco could not swim. Bozeman, not an expert swimmer, seized the overturned boat but Chicco clung to him and both floundered in the water and were in danger of drowning.

Frightened by Wave
Bushey, who is an expert swimmer, seized Chicco and headed for shore, about 200 yards away and all went well until a big wave washed over the boys, frightening Chicco who grasped Bushey around the shoulders, pinning his arms so he could not swim. Both boys went to the bottom where Bushey was able to release himself from Chicco's vice-like grip, and came to the top, expecting Chicco to come up also. After swimming around and diving for the boy he returned to shore.

Grasping hooks were used to take the bottom of the lake. Chicco's body was recovered about 50 minutes later but about 100 feet nearer shore than where he went down, the waves carrying him toward shore. The Appleton fire department pumpmotor was used but life was extinct.

Little is known here of Chicco's relatives. Brighton beach authorities are communicating with the booking agency through which they secured his services in an effort to locate his family. The body has been taken to Menasha where it probably will be held until instructions for its disposition are received.

CIGARET FAMINE MAY END STRIKE

Coal Miners Lose Heart When Tobacco Factories Run Short of Fuel.

By United Press Leased Wire
London.—The threatened cigarette famine brought closer Thursday settlement of the British coal strike.

Tobacco factories with large stores of manufactured goods and with fair supplies of fuel, thus far have managed to operate. Within the last week, however, these supplies have been depleted so far that an official warning was issued by the association of manufacturers.

"Our factories will have to curtail production," read the warning.

"Continuation of the coal strike will bring on a cigarette famine."

"A cigarette famine probably will be the final argument with miner, owner and the public in bringing about a settlement."

The warning was issued almost coincidentally with a report that miners and mine owners agreeing to Premier Lloyd George's invitation probably will meet Friday.

It was believed that Lloyd George will preside at the forthcoming meeting of miners and owners. He was said to have assurances that both groups are ready and anxious to make an earnest effort at settlement.

Much stress was laid on the fact that it is costing tax payers $16,000,000 a week to provide defense measures and to support the unemployed. In addition there are the inconveniences caused by lack of supplies, lessening of traffic and the general obstruction of industry.

HOUSE PROVIDES FUNDS TO ENFORCE DRY LAWS
By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—(With an emergency appropriation of $200,000 to provide for the reinstatement of 700 prohibition agents recently suspended forty days because of a shortage of funds, the house Thursday passed the deficiency appropriation bill.

The bill carries approximately $100,000,000.

TWO BLONDES IN ORTHWEIN CASE

Chicago.—Another "kissing blonde" in the Orthwein murder case was found Thursday.

The mysterious girl with whom Herbert P. Zeigler, slain Goodyear Tire and Rubber company executive, danced just before he was shot by Mrs. Cora C. Orthwein, was Mrs. Charlotte Lewinsky, sister of Beatrice Brenner, who was named as Zeigler's partner by the state's attorney's office. This information came out Thursday when Mrs. Lewinsky's husband, who is being sued for separate maintenance, filed a cross bill.

He charges his wife with being in the company of Zeigler frequently and that she cried at the time of his death. The state will call both women in to determine which really was the "kissing blonde."

Assistant Prosecutor Heth claims that from the real "blonde" can be determined whether Mrs. Orthwein's motive in slaying Zeigler was jealousy. Miss Brenner was further identified Thursday as Beatrice Benton, an actress who played "Intoxication" in Experience a few years ago.

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison.—Make all the home brew and wine you want but don't sell it, and above all don't get caught making it, is the effect of the opinion of Attorney General William J. Morgan on the Madison prohibition enforcement bill.

The attorney general held the Madison bill wasn't any drier than the Mulberger law now on the statutes books. It prohibits the manufacture of liquor but at the same time gives tacit consent to the practice, providing the liquor is not sold, by denying prohibition enforcement officers the right of search and seizure.

Before a prohibition officer can enter a home to search for booze, he must have evidence that liquor is being manufactured for the purpose of sale. The fact liquor is being manufactured for family consumption is not sufficient ground for search or seizure under the bill.

SHARPEN TEETH OF ANTI-BOUGER LAW
Madison.—Attorney General William J. Morgan will be granted power to prosecute retailers for profiteering and money to get evidence against them under the provisions of a bill ordered to third reading by the assembly Thursday.

The bill amends the state anti-trust laws to include retailers whether they be corporations, firms or individuals. The existing law exercises control over corporations only.

The bill was ordered engrossed after the attorney general had explained the law would in no way effect farm cooperative organizations.

The bill would put teeth in the profiteering law. The appropriation of $10,000 carried by the bill would allow the attorney general to employ men to ferret out evidence of combinations in restraint of trade, Morgan told the assemblymen.

The Arnold inheritance bill doubling the present state taxes on bequests was laid over until next Wednesday in the assembly to clear up a minor objection by amendment before being passed. The bill will add $20,000 annually to the revenues of the state.

The basis of computing disability compensation under the employees compensation law was boosted from $20.50 weekly to $30.00, in a bill passed in the assembly. The bill now goes to the senate for concurrence.

BODY OF DEAD MAN HANGING FROM WINDOW
Eau Claire, Wis.—Partly wedged in a small basement window of the J. N. Westlund Grocery store, with his head and part of the upper body outside and the lower limbs dangling down inside, the dead body of unidentified man was found Thursday morning by a policeman passing by. There were no signs of violence and it is believed by the authorities that the man was stricken by heart failure while crawling through the window with intent to burglarize.

No marks of identification were found on his person. He was about 27 years old.

AWAIT REPORT ON DEATH OF TROOPERS IN MINE WAR
Williamson, W. Va.—State police headquarters awaited details early Thursday to reports that two state troopers had been killed in a fight in the mine war zone. Captain J. R. Brockus received word from Captain George Norton that Manley Vaughan, a Kentucky national guardsman, and a West Virginia state policeman named Rackley, had been shot to death near Nolan.

CHITA GOVERNMENT BLOCKS CONCESSIONS

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—The little known Chita government of Siberia has blocked, at least temporarily, the valuable economic concessions which Washington D. Vanderlip, American capitalist, is trying to secure from the Russian soviet government, according to advices reaching diplomatic circles here Thursday.

A movement was started recently in the Chita congress by communist rich industrial resources, from the territory of the republic of China, according to these advices. This movement, it is understood by Russian diplomats here was inspired by the soviet authorities in Moscow so as to allow the Russian soviet government to give Vanderlip concessions for development of the vast Kamchatka region.

Officials and diplomats in Washington are following closely all developments in the tortuous course of the proposed Vanderlip concessions which the American capitalist claimed on various occasions had been concluded.

POLICE CHARGE BELFAST IRISH TO END RIOTS

North Ireland City Resembles Dublin After Day of Street Fighting.

By United Press Leased Wire
Belfast.—Charging through fighting mobs and firing as they went, British soldiers Thursday broke up a number of riots growing out of the recent elections.

There was fierce revolver fighting, particularly in Butler street, opposite the Catholic monastery of the Holy Cross in Butler street.

The disturbances were over a wide area.

The rioting developed after rival processions had clashed. Snipers, mounted on buildings, picked off their enemies in the streets. First fighting and stone throwing were supplanted by revolver firing.

The mobs scattered right and left as the big armored cars roared through the streets.

Additional troops were brought in Thursday and guards were stationed at important intersections to prevent renewed outbreaks.

Belfast began to assume the appearance of Dublin which has been occupied by large bodies of troops since the first Sinn Fein uprising.

10 Sinn Feiners Dead
Dublin.—With the smoldering and blackened ruins of the customs house here under heavy guard, soldiers and police searched the debris for additional victims Thursday.

The number of dead resulting from the most spectacular effort of the Sinn Feiners since the 1916 rebellion was placed unofficially at ten. It was believed a number of additional Sinn Feiners, their escape cut off by black and tan police who responded to the emergency call after the rebels had fired the building, perished in the flames.

The size of the band which descended upon the beautiful building like locusts was indicated by the fact that 111 arrests were made. Over 150 were in the party which was provided with 88 cans of petrol and four bales of cotton.

Police reinforcements arrived and the officers rushed across an open space, throwing the spectators right and left to reach the Sinn Feiners. With their backs to the customs house, the rebels fought with revolvers and hand grenades but gradually were disarmed and taken prisoners.

Sinn Feiner Elected
London.—Ireland.—At least one Sinn Feiner has been elected to the Dail parliament, according to first returns announced here Thursday on the elections of Tuesday.

Prof. John McNeill, noted Sinn Fein leader, was one member elected here. Senator Robert Anderson, Unionist, following the Sinn Fein agreement, will refuse to sit.

SURTAX RIDER HUNG ON TEACHER PENSION BILL
By United Press Leased Wire
Madison.—Opponents of the teachers' retirement fund pension bill in the assembly succeeded in attaching a rider to measure last night providing for a surtax to raise million dollars necessary to pay the state's share toward the fund.

The rider was offered by Assemblyman John Dahl, one of the administration floor leaders and carried 64 to 25.

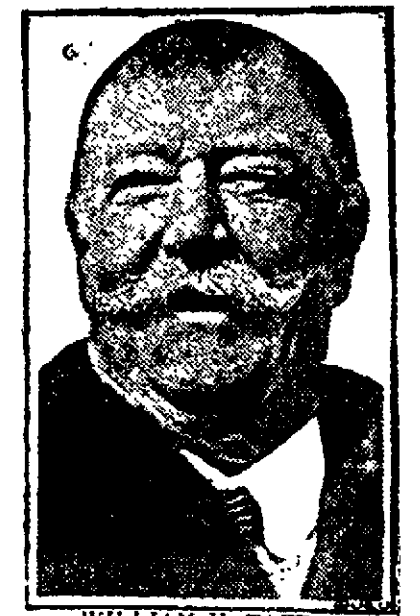

The measure has passed the senate unopposed and if the senate fails to concur in the surtax rider, a committee on conference will be appointed. The surtax feature was defeated in the senate by a majority of three.

$75,000 And A Scholarship For Local College
Lawrence college became the recipient of two magnificent gifts this week when a donation of $75,000 was received from the Carnegie corporation of New York toward the $600,000 which the college is raising as an endowment fund; and a junior scholarship was founded as a memorial to the late Warren Stephens by his brother, David H. Stevens, of the University of Chicago, and his mother and sister.

The $75,000 gift is to apply on the endowment fund which was started last year when the General Education board of New York gave $200,000, provided the college would raise $600,000. The money will be used for the purpose of increasing the salaries of professors and taking care of deficits.

The scholarship was founded with the understanding that it should be awarded each year to some junior who would not otherwise be able to return to college for the senior year. The late Warren Stevens graduated from Lawrence several years ago, as did the donor.

NEW JUSTICE?

Harding Will Name Taft For Highest Court

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—President Harding has decided to appoint William Howard Taft to the high office of chief justice of the United States as successor to the late Edward Douglas White, it was learned here Thursday, on the highest authority.

Contrary to the previous expectations that the big appointment would not be made until shortly before the opening of the new term of the supreme court next October, the nomination of Taft may go to the senate within a week or ten days.

It was learned that the White House within the last few days had asked Washington friends of the former president to ascertain whether he would accept the appointment. The reply has come back that he would. The president is understood to have been of the opinion for some time that Taft was the outstanding man for a position on the supreme court.

DRYER DAYS AHEAD FOR CENTRAL WEST STATES

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—"Exceedingly dry" for Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin, was the forecast Thursday by John Kjellander, federal prohibition director for the four states.

Kjellander officially assumed office Thursday and issued his duty to office liquor dealers. He said he was going to build up an enforcement organization of men he knew could be trusted to enforce the laws.

"There will be no grafters in the organization," he said.

"MARRYING PARSON" IS OUSTED BY HIS CHURCH

Winona Lake, Ind.—Rev. J. L. McElmoye, Maryland's marrying parson, was ousted from his pulpit at Elkton, Md., Thursday by the supreme court of the Presbyterian church.

The Rev. McElmoye was charged with conducting a "gretna green" at Elkton and running a "marrying marathon" with another pastor here.

THIRSTY LAWMAKERS VOTE AGAINST BEER

Madison.—"Wouldn't a great tall schmeer of beer, with plenty of foam on top, go pretty good right now?"

Assemblyman John Shaffer, Milwaukee, asked his colleagues Thursday.

"You said a mouthful," shouted Assemblyman from all parts of the chamber wiping perspiration from their brows.

Then they killed the joint resolution memorializing congress to legalize the sale and manufacture of light wines and beer, by a vote of 50 to 40.

"The drier you are the drier you vote," exclaimed Shaffer when the vote was announced.

FRENCH HATE FOR GERMANY COOLS OFF

By United Press Leased Wire
Paris.—Premier Briand appeared Thursday to have swung French opinion into greater toleration for Germany. It was confidently believed here that the chamber of deputies will approve his course in regard to reparations and his handling of the Upper Silesian situation.

A vote of confidence would serve to restore fully the cordial relations of the allies and would permit the supreme council to proceed with its plans for dividing Silesia between the Germans and Poland.

With rail traffic restored in Silesia, allied detachments there reported they were restoring order gradually. The situation was expected to be cleared up entirely when the Polish government answers the allied demand that she close her Silesian frontier as Germany has done. With France joining in the demand, it was believed Poland will obey.

POLICE FIND CLEW TO MISSING WOMAN

By United Press Leased Wire
Seattle, Wash.—Two developments Thursday caused police to believe they were nearer a solution of the mystery surrounding the disappearance of Mrs. Kate Mahoney, missing Seattle woman.

Mrs. C. A. Green, who lived on a houseboat in Lake Union, near Seattle, reported to the police Thursday that Wednesday she found the lid of a trunk to which locks of white hair were clinging, floating in the lake.

A. F. Morris, a salesman, reported to the police that he had overheard a conversation in a hotel room here, in which two women and at least one man took part, during which he said there was discussed a plot to end Mrs. Mahoney's life.

Mrs. Mahoney disappeared in St. Paul soon after she was married to James E. Mahoney, aged 43. She is aged 70.

WAR CRIMINAL IS SENT TO PRISON

Germans Convict Sergeant
Heimen of Mistreating Prisoners of War.

Leipzig, Germany.—Germany Thursday convicted her first war criminal. Sergeant Heimen was sentenced to ten months in prison and ordered to pay part of the trial costs when he was found guilty of mistreating 15 British and Belgian prisoners of war.

Heimen practically convicted himself. British witnesses grumbled that the German court officials did not seem to examine Heimen closely enough, but the sergeant was so clearly unrepentant that he lost favor even with the Germans.

He admitted beating prisoners with fists and rifle butt, but he said he had been treated similarly when he was a recruit.

Captain Mueller was the next defendant taken before the court. He was charged with improperly supervising a prison camp with the result that an epidemic broke out. Mueller's defense is that he was in charge only a month and that the epidemic did not start until after he had left.

GRACE LUK AT BEDSIDE OF HER DYING FATHER

Madison.—Grace Lusk, serving 19 years in Waupun penitentiary for the murder of Mrs. Mary Roberts, at Waunakee, is at the bedside of her dying father, Dr. C. P. Lusk at Mosinee, Marathon co.

Tuesday night she was hurried away from the Waupun prison, accompanied by a guard, arriving at her father's home early Wednesday.

She is there now awaiting the passing of her aged parent who remained loyal to her throughout her long trial. This was the first time Miss Lusk had left the prison since she began her long term on June 20, 1918.

Appeal was made to Warden Henry Town by relatives of Miss Lusk for her temporary release to soften the final hours of her father. At that time Dr. Lusk was not expected to live but a few hours. The presence of the daughter is understood to have caused him to rally temporarily although attending physicians say there is no chance for his recovery.

Rumors Reach Washington That Oil Wells in Mexico May Run Dry in Next Few Months. Government Investigates New Oil Fields.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1921

Washington.—Are Mexico's oil wells running dry? The effort to get the government here to issue some pronouncement answering that question has behind it a series of conflicting desires and interests. Thus far the department of state which has been asked by Chairman Porter of the house committee on foreign affairs, for a complete report on the oil resources of Mexico, has not yet assembled its data or seen fit to publish its conclusions.

The controversy as to whether the material should be published is usual in its character. One element in the oil industry who have holdings in Mexico and who fear the adverse effect of the report insist that the government ought not to put its stamp of approval on anything that might tend to diminish the value of oil stocks. Another element says that information in possession of the government is public property and that the American people are entitled to know about it. They insist that the situation is parallel to that which arises when through the United States geological survey or the federal trade commission figures are published concerning the production of coal and other commodities where the price depends a good deal on the output.

It is a fact that government officials have informally been conjecturing that Mexico's oil wells are in danger of running dry and estimates have been made that this would happen anywhere between eighteen months and three years. From these informal references to the oil supply have grown rumors that the government had definite data on hand. Pressure to get that data published has led in one case to an official denial that the government here had authorized any statement on the question.

The department of commerce, however, is not relying on Mexico alone as a source of oil supply. It is already doing all in its power to encourage American interests to get oil-bearing areas in South America. The situation is vital from the viewpoint of national defense for hitherto Mexico has furnished a large part of the world's oil. There is no certainty either that the oil wells of the United States will continue at their present capacity for more than eighteen or twenty years and therefore a far-seeing government must concern itself with new sources of supply.

Meanwhile the issuance of the government's data on the subject is awaited with especially keen interest by all factions in the oil business. The Porter resolution has not passed the house but Representative Porter will probably be given the information anyway inasmuch as he is chairman of the foreign affairs committee of the house and he can make as much of it public as he pleases.

"Its unanimous adoption by the senate was very gratifying to me," Borah's proposal for bringing the United States Great Britain and Japan together to discuss gradual reduction over a five year period of naval armaments was made part of the navy bill late Wednesday in the senate 74 to 0.

BLOODY WARD FEUDISTS CLAIM ANOTHER VICTIM

Chicago.—Feudists of the "bloody Nineteenth" ward reached out and claimed another victim early Thursday.

Michael Laccari, lieutenant of the late Anthony D'Andrea, political chieftain who was assassinated recently, was ridden with bullets in his saloon.

Laccari, police said, was a feud victim, the enemies killing him in reprisal for deaths in their ranks.

Laccari, following the murder of D'Andrea, moved out of the "bloody Nineteenth" but this failed to save his life.

Refinancing Is Planned Neenah and Menasha Rate Un- changed Until Service Is Improved.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison.—The Wisconsin Railroad commission this morning ordered an increase in gas rates in Appleton, Neenah and Menasha of 25 cents per thousand cubic feet, effective when certain improvements ordered by the commission have been completed.

Although it is not so stated in the decision it is understood the order for the increase is made at this time to permit the company to refinance over $1,000,000 worth of property, $300,000 of first mortgage bonds having been defaulted for two months.

The commission, in a ten page decision going into detail on the application for the increase which was filed Oct. 18, 1920, finds that the company has been losing money in the gas department and not for the fact that this service was not put to standard would have been entitled under the law to the increase a year ago.

After reviewing the matter in detail, the opinion says:

"The company has operated its gas department at a loss for some time and an increase in rates was denied until such time as the service conditions were satisfactory and in reasonable compliance with the standards of the commission. The service in Appleton was never as bad as that at Neenah and Menasha. We are confident that the installation of the holder at Neenah and the addition in equipment at both Neenah and Menasha will react in a favorable manner on the Appleton service."

"The condition of the company is such that relief should be granted as early as service conditions warrant and we are therefore making the rates herein arrived at applicable for the city of Appleton alone, regardless of the fact that they were arrived at in consideration of the costs of the entire system."

Demonstrate Service.
"The application for these rates in the cities of Neenah and Menasha must await a demonstration of actual good service conditions in these municipalities and the disposition of the company to comply with pressure rules."

"After the completion of the improvements now deemed necessary to bring about proper standards of gas service in Neenah and Menasha further hearing will be held on the question of service actually being rendered at the cities of Neenah and Menasha. The rates herein authorized are not to become applicable in said cities until after final determination of service made after said hearing."

"The date at which the authorized rates may become effective in Appleton will depend upon the celerity with which the company completes the necessary work as provided in the order."

"It is therefore ordered that the Wisconsin T. & H. & C. company be and the same is hereby authorized to withdraw its schedule of gas rates at Appleton and to substitute the following schedule thereof:

First, 1,000 cu. ft. per mo. $1.70 $1.60
Next 15,000 cu. ft. per mo. $1.55 $1.45
Next 30,000 cu. ft. per mo. $1.45 $1.35
Next 45,000 cu. ft. per mo. $1.30 $1.20
Over 100,000 cu. ft. per mo. $1.20 $1.10
Minimum monthly bill, 3.5 light meters, 50 cents net.

Ten and 20 light meters, $1.00 net.
Thirty and larger light meters, $1.50 net.

"Discount commission shall be bid at the gross rates and shall be permitted a discount of 10 cents per 100 cubic feet when bills are paid on or before the tenth day after date of bill."

What Company Must Do
"It is further ordered that the Wisconsin T. & H. & C. company be and the same is hereby authorized to withdraw its schedule of gas rates at Appleton and to substitute the following schedule thereof:

"The 200,000 cubic foot holder at Neenah must be complete and in service."

"The compressor at Neenah holder must be installed and in operation. This item is the installation of the auxiliary steam drive compressor and valves and apparatus for steam generation."

"The 4-inch high pressure line from the Neenah holder to the present high pressure main must be installed."

"The two purifiers and two new scrubbers at the Appleton plant must be completed and in operation."

"The relief header to be constructed in the present pit must be completed and in operation."

"The new exhauster for the water gas machine must be installed and in operation."

"The present gas exhauster must be so connected as to permit of its being used as a low pressure booster for Appleton."

Home Made Dessert

A delicious dessert that will rival the most expensive parfait on the hotel menu may be made at home. With fresh fruits in market, fruit sauces are easily and cheaply prepared in the home kitchen. Plain vanilla ice cream, home-made if possible, a fresh fruit sauce and a spoonful of whipped cream form a simple and attractive dessert.

To make the fruit sauce of strawberries use 1 cup of sugar to 2 cups of berries. Make a syrup and when cool add the berries slightly crushed. The sauce should be made several hours before needed. Boil the sugar with 1-2 cup water for 10 minutes. This makes a heavy syrup. By adding the berries when the syrup is cool the berries are uncooked and have a fresh taste quite impossible to secure in boiled sauce.

Pour over the ice cream and top with a spoonful of whipped cream.

BREAKFAST—Orange juice, fried bread, syrup, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Welsh rabbit, crackers, drop cakes, tea.

DINNER—Ham and eggs, mashed potatoes, prune conserve, lettuce and radish salad, tapioca pudding with fresh strawberries, coffee.

My Own Recipes
A plain tapioca pudding is good and economically served with fresh berries. The berries may be made into a sauce and poured over the pudding or the pudding may be poured over the berries and the whole served with cream.

Prune Conserve
Three pounds prunes, 2 pounds sugar, 1-2 cups walnut meats, 1 pound seeded raisins, 3 large oranges, 1 large lemon.

Wash prunes and soak in cold water for an hour. Stone. Remove rind from oranges and lemon and put through food chopper. Dice pulp. Put all ingredients in preserving kettle with a little water to prevent burning and cook about an hour and a half until thick. Put into jelly glasses and cover with paraffin when cold.

MY FIRST JOB

G. H. PACKARD
Superior Knitting Works

The first job I had was as book-keeper for D. B. Bailey, grocer. I worked on the job for 2 1/2 years and began at a salary of $5 a week. I lost my job when Mr. Bailey retired from business and went west.

I received the job in a very peculiar way. I went into the store for an application blank to join an organization. Mr. Bailey asked me what I was doing and when he found I was not working he asked me if I wanted a job. Of course I did so he asked me to come back and show him a specimen of my penmanship. I was pronounced satisfactory and was told to come to work in the morning. I got as far as the door when he called me back.

"Hold on a minute, sonny, what's your name?" Of course my name made no difference in the work I had to do and I found that Mr. Bailey was a man who hired a person by his looks and by his ability rather than by his reputation.

the afternoon and were shown through the Kimberly paper mill by Louis Bonini, Fred Peterson, Charles Hopfensperger and Emil Voeks. They were also given an automobile ride about the city.

The meeting opened with a banquet at 7:30 o'clock. Louis Bonini acted as toastmaster. The first speaker was Jacob Herman of Milwaukee, who spoke on the need and necessity of organization. He reviewed the history of Milwaukee butchers for the last 25 years and called attention to some of the benefits derived from organization in the way of a shorter working day, and the closing of meat markets on Sunday. He also called attention to the necessity of organization for the purpose of fighting adverse legislation and said it was necessary for retailers to attend every meeting.

Joseph Senz of Milwaukee, gave a general talk and touched on the visit to the Kimberly mill. He said while the Milwaukee men would great quantities of paper it was the first time the majority of them ever had the opportunity of seeing it manufactured. He was profuse in his appreciation of the manner in which the visitors were entertained.

Emil Priebe of Milwaukee, spoke on insurance and outlined what the Wisconsin Retail Meat Dealers association proposes to do in this direction.

Hugh G. Corbett, managing secretary of the chamber of commerce, talked on the need of organization. He said that civilization itself depends on organization.

The object of the meeting was stated by the toastmaster, who said it was to get retailers working together. A discussion followed.

An effort is to be made to organize all the cities represented. The program was interspersed with music.

WIFE TAKES HUSBAND'S ADVICE

And Is Made Well Again
by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Springfield, Mass.—"The doctor told my husband that I had to have an operation, otherwise I would be a sickly woman and could not have any more children on account of my weakened condition. I refused to have the operation. My husband asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For the first four months I could do but little work, had to lie down most of the time, and was very nervous, but my husband was always reminding me to take the Vegetable Compound, which I did. Of my eight children this last one was the easiest birth of all and I am thankful for your Vegetable Compound. I recommend it to my friends when I hear them complaining about their ills."

—Mrs. M. NATALE, 72 Fremont St., Springfield, Mass. Sickly, ailing women make unhappy homes, and after reading Mrs. Natale's letter one can imagine how this home was transformed by her restoration to health. Every woman who suffers from such ailments should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial. It is surely worth while.

WEALTH AND DEBTS OF THE NATION

The financial statistician of Commerce and Finance has compiled some interesting figures, showing the wealth and debts of the leading nations of the world. A study of these figures ought to give Americans a rather comfortable feeling when they compare their lot with that of the citizens of other nations.

The countries dealt with are the United States, Great Britain, France, Russia, Italy, Japan, Germany and Austria-Hungary. The estimated total wealth of all eight is a thousand billion dollars. The wealth of the United States is estimated at five hundred billions, or exactly one-half the total. The total debts of the eight nations is two hundred and fifty-seven billion dollars, or more than 25 per cent of their total wealth. The total debts of the seven nations other than the United States is two hundred and thirty-three billion dollars, or about 46 per cent of their total wealth.

The total debt of the United States is, roughly, twenty-four billion dollars, or less than five per cent of its total wealth. The British debt is almost double ours—about 20 per cent of its wealth. France owes fifty-one billion dollars, 5 1/2 per cent of its wealth. Italy owes nearly twenty billions, about 50 per cent of its wealth. Russia owes about twenty-five billions, 42 per cent of its wealth. The figures for Germany and Austria-Hungary seem almost incredible. The former's debt is 312 per cent of its wealth and the latter's 2740 per cent. Bankruptcy is a mild word to use in connection with the financial situation of Austria-Hungary.

Japan is the only nation in the lot in the same class with the United States. Although her national wealth is but forty billions, as compared with our five hundred billions, her debt is less than two billions, slightly under ours in percentage. Japan's economic status is of interest to this country only as it affects her strength as a political and industrial power in competition with America. Its life, racial characteristics and institutions are so dissimilar to our own that we have little interest in social comparison, and we would not want to change our lot with Japan under any circumstances.

So far as the rest of the world is concerned, where comparisons are more natural, the United States is in a class by itself. Those who, from whatever cause, complain of conditions in America do not know what they are talking about. It is true that we have many problems yet to solve and that our social and industrial adjustments are still far from perfected, but our political institutions are of such a character as to insure right results in the end.

The United States, above every other nation is pursuing the road which leads to sound national life, coupled with the maximum of personal liberty, individual opportunity and common welfare. The person who does not think so would have his views changed by a few years spent in foreign lands.

THE FOREST AND LABOR

Is labor interested in forest protection? More than 100,000 men in Wisconsin find employment in the forest or in the industries dependent on the forest for operation. Over a billion feet of lumber is produced annually in the 250 odd sawmills of the state, thousands of tons of paper from the pulp and paper mills, and other products valued at millions from the sash and door mills, the furniture factories, and the multitude of wood-using industries. These industries furnish a livelihood for hundreds of thousands of persons of this state, and the forest stands back of it all and is part of the foundation on which our entire industrial system rests. Does it not appear strange that intelligent Wisconsin citizens must be appealed to, to furnish the protection that is needed to reasonably continue and replace this great resource that now does so much for the citizen of the state.

Neither the trees on city streets nor those of parks will furnish sufficient material to keep the wheels, which employ labor, turning in this state. It will require forests on forest producing lands. Fire is the enemy of these new forests now. As such, these fires are the enemies of labor in every section of the state. Carelessness is at the root of the forest fire problems and 95 per cent of those that occur can be prevented. To accomplish this it is necessary to keep the fire that ultimately destroys from starting.

The men and women working in the sawmills and other woodworking plants in Milwaukee, Green Bay, Wausau, Sheboygan, and a dozen other Wisconsin cities, even though they never set foot in a forest during the year, have a definite and distinct interest in forest protection, and ultimately such protection will afford them or their sons and daughters a means of livelihood. Labor and the forest have much in common. The workers of the state can well afford to preach and practice forest protection.

FUTURE OF FARM ORGANIZATIONS

By a very decisive vote the house of representatives passed the Volstead bill removing from the farmers' organizations some of the penalties of the Clayton anti-trust act. It will, when it becomes a law, encourage the farmers more effectively to form cooperative organizations for marketing and distribution. Whether it will protect the farmers from the losses they have suffered through the waste of unorganized distribution is a question. It is intended to permit federations of farmers to do interstate and foreign commerce.

The success of the Danish farmers, and of the organized creameries of Siberia, in fighting their battles for markets proves that the right sort of organization wins. And we are not without successes of the same sort in this country. The orange and lemon industries of California and the fruit growers of the Pacific northwest never could have taken the commanding place they have occupied in their respective fields if it had not been for their organizations.

The federated cooperative cheese factories of Wisconsin last year did a business of $3,359,000 on a paid-in capital of only $1320. They now propose to sign up 60 per cent of the factories in a three-year pool, brand its cheese and advertise.

It is indispensable to our progress and prosperity as a nation that farming shall be conducted profitably. The rewards from agriculture must be subject to only natural economic laws through abnormal as well as normal times. The necessity for effective organization by the farmers has been apparent for a long time. The country should have no fear about the effects of such an organization, or multiple organizations. World competition will always regulate prices to the extent that protection is required for the consumer. We will be far better off if farm production is marketed with a minimum of waste and expense, and uninfluenced by artificial factors.

QUESTIONS

You can test the number of facts you know by an Edison Questionnaire. But a list of facts won't always show what kind of a brain is there. For all the facts that he might amass, Won't make a sage of a silly ass. Though they might enable a simp to pass An Edison Questionnaire!

There's many a man who'd fall down flat On an Edison Questionnaire Who nevertheless beneath his hat Has plenty of brains to spare; For education—or so I'd state—Consists in planning and thinking straight, And these you scarcely can demonstrate By an Edison Questionnaire!

So though I wouldn't exactly flout That Edison Questionnaire, If you don't know facts that it asks about You really needn't despair; And whether a college man or not If you've learned to THINK, I guess you've got An education, no matter what The Edison Questionnaire! Copyright 1921, by N. E. A.

POKER IN EGYPT

The good old American game of poker is rapidly coming to the front as the popular amusement of Egypt.

In eight months the United States exported 12,227 decks of cards to the land of the Nile. The shokas, boys and pariah make good poker players, it is said, because they can display a stoic countenance behind four aces or a straight flush.

DRINKING WATER

There are a great many precautions about drinking water which have been handed down to us by the medical authorities from away back yonder. We respect medical authority—when it agrees with our own opinions—but when we are thirsty we drink, and nothing but water. We like it clear, fresh and cold, and we always endeavor to make sure that there are no typhoid bacilli, cholera spirilla, dysentery amoebae or other undesirable ingredients in it. And we do dislike to pay money for drinking water, that is, for water out of a bottle. It always seems such a shameful extravagance when a man buys a glass of water to drink, when tap water, in any city or town, is perfectly potable or may be easily rendered perfectly safe to drink.

Boiling the water is one good old standby, if there is any question about its pollution with disease-producing organisms. But boiled water is distasteful to some people. If another means of disinfection is desired, the use of a good, fresh bleaching powder—chlorinated lime, or as it is often called, "chloride of lime"—which should come only in tight tin cans and when opened should not give off a very intense chlorine odor. To render any water safe to drink, add to each gallon 5 grains of chlorinated lime; clear lake or mountain water will require only a grain or two for each gallon. This amount does not materially injure the taste of the water, yet makes it safe to drink if you are in doubt of its purity. And you must always be in doubt of water from springs or streams or lakes in inhabited sections.

When very hot, drink all the water you want, at meal times between meals, and cold as you like, but without ice in the water. Ice sometimes conveys infection and ice water is an invention for which nature is not responsible in warm countries.

Cold water at meal time not only quenches thirst but also increases the secretion of gastric juices and aids digestion. This has been scientifically established although it is contrary to the antique theory that one shouldn't drink cold water at meal time.

A popular notion is that the free drinking of water causes excessive perspiration. This, too, is an error, for perspiration is the physiological means of cooling the body, and drinking cold water actually diminishes perspiration if you are thirsty. It is too hearty eating that makes folks sweat so much in warm weather. Especially excessive consumption of animal nutriment instead of vegetables and fruits.

There are two great hygienic and moral improvements which American cities universally want: First, comfort stations, and second, free drinking fountains where cold water and not just water may be had by the thirsty citizen at all times.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Recurrence of Boils

My son had just about recovered from one very bad boil on the back of his neck when five others appeared on the same place. Is it a good idea to put out a drawing poultice? If so, do you advise a day poultice such as—? It is expensive but we will do anything to get relief. Is there any way you can suggest to prevent the recurrence of boils in this manner? (Mrs. W. E. Q.)

ANSWER—The back of the neck is selected by boils because there is a place we don't wash any too frequently, and moreover the neckband or collar rubs the neck in such manner as to give the patient an infection of any pus-producing germs present on the skin. Recurrence of boils is, of course, due to direct infection by the discharge from the first boil, through careless handling. The best recurrence preventive I know is giving the region a direct sunbath of half an hour or more a day. Sunlight is our most powerful germicide. The clay mixtures are extravagant and worse than useless, in my opinion. If a boil is ever properly poulticed, use no medicinal materials, but apply large hot compresses, which do not supply food for germs. Avoid poulticing unless the doctor orders it, because the open, dry treatment may be more effective. Let the boil be surgically treated by the doctor if prompt recovery is desired. Each day the skin of neck should be carefully cleaned with alcohol on pledgets of cotton, prior to the sunbath.

The Foreign Film Invasion

By Frederic J. Haskin

New York City—Civil war has broken out in the moving picture industry. Those who, only a few months ago, stood solidly united in the fight against censorship, now are split into two bitter and belligerent factions by a new issue—the importation of foreign films.

Haskin

Since the successful introduction of the German film, "Passion," not long ago, dozens of German film productions have been received in this country, 46 recently arriving in one week. And they are still coming in, with no end of them in sight. Encouraged by the German success, moreover, the French are now making films with the American market in view, and the Italians, who are famous for the artistic quality of their pictures, are said to be speeding up sample productions.

This flood of importations is regarded with the most serious misgivings by actors, directors and others employed in our own moving picture industry, who realize that it means a curtailment of production in this country. They know that for every foreign film bought by an American producer, he will make one less over here and employ correspondingly fewer people. The picture people have already lived through an exceedingly hard year while the big production companies were getting rid of their surplus stock. Now they face an even greater crisis if the influx of foreign films keeps up.

Thus, the war cry is being sounded throughout the industry and the various organizations of actors, directors, assistant directors, scenario writers and camera men are sharpening their weapons for a stiff fight against the foreign films. Leading the rebellion is the Actors' Equity Association, which has enlisted the aid of the American Legion and is preparing to take the matter up with Congress, with a view to securing a protective tariff.

The opposition has become so intense that when "The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari," (the new German futuristic film which has created such a furore) was exhibited in Los Angeles a few weeks ago, it was boycotted. Protests were first lodged by the American Legion, the Motion Picture Directors' Association, the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees and Moving Picture Operators. When the theater management paid no attention to the protests, pickets from these organizations, including wounded veterans of the war, were stationed outside the theater with banners admonishing the public not to patronize it.

Boycotting a Film

The demonstration, which lasted from the opening time on Sunday until 8:30 at night, was unquestionably successful. Up until 6 o'clock about 75 persons entered the theater, while less than that number attended the evening show. Thousands were attracted to the neighborhood, but they merely stood on the sidewalk and viewed the proceedings. When a patron emerged from the theater he was jeered at but there was no violence of any kind. At 8 o'clock, the theater management announced that another picture had been substituted for the German film.

The great menace of the foreign films from the American picture people's standpoint is their remarkably low cost. Owing to the difference in American and European exchange rates, they can be bought for a mere song and distributed at a tremendous profit. "Passion," for instance, which is said to have been bought for a pittance, has already brought its American distributors over a million dollars. Some of the films, elaborately staged and containing massive scenes showing 10,000 people in action, are sold for $2,000 apiece.

Furthermore, the new foreign films are tremendously popular. Except in the Los Angeles instance where the theater was picketed, they have drawn unprecedented crowds, and hence are much in demand by moving picture exhibitors. Not only has the public forgotten its supposed taste for costume plays, and given the German pictures its enthusiastic endorsement, but American critics have given them a royal welcome. "Passion" was the first picture since Griffith's "The Birth of a Nation" which made the movie critics drop their stereotyped phrases and launch forth into original and impassioned eloquence. Columns of praise were heaped upon the German's Polish star, Pola Negri, and the frankly German director, Lubitsch, all interspersed with unwelcome comparisons of the German film and the typical American production.

The next German film, "Deception," has earned an almost equally favorable reception. Here is a sample of the sort of thing which the American movie ranks are finding so depressing:

"Deception" by an odd paradox, is a German picture about English history. It tells the story of Anne Boleyn, the second chamber in the secret of wives of King Henry VIII. Both as an historical and as a human document, it is magnificent. Lubitsch, (the director) brings to life and turns dead and gone figures into human beings. It is an old saying that the public does not want historical dramas and that no one will go to see costume plays. But "Deception" has proved that the public is ten times more interested in an historical drama than they are in the average brand of trash handed out by directors who have neither educational background nor imagination. The picture defies another rule of routine production: it ends tragically. The only quarrel those who saw it had with the picture was that it ended too soon. Most of them would have been happy if Lubitsch had gone on and filmed the rest of English history.

German Propaganda Again

It was immediately after this that the old war-time cries of "German propaganda" began to be circulated on Broadway. It was pointed out that "Deception" was really nothing more than a scandalous episode in English history; that the Germans had deliberately selected Henry VIII for picturization because he was a tyrant and a libertine and ate venison dipped in gravy with his fingers. Anne Boleyn had been represented not as the scheming vixen history paints her, but as merely a weak and cruelly sinned-against woman. "Huh," said the American picture people vindictively, "we notice that the Germans stick carefully to the history of other nations. They don't dare film any of their own."

To this charge the defenders of the films retort that even if they do contain propaganda (which they do not grant) there is nothing to prevent the French and British from retaliating in kind. An investigation of German monarchs would probably yield a rich harvest of lurid material which the American public would be only too delighted to review, they point out. Furthermore, the first French film to reach us, "J'accuse," is frankly a propaganda picture, depicting some of the worst phases of the late war. The soft pedal is placed on German brutality, it is true. There are no seditions of nuns or mutilations of infants in the picture, but it is a plea for sympathy for the French, which is struggling so bravely to recover from the desolation of the war.

But propaganda, or not the champions of the new foreign films declare that they are a welcome relief from the average American movie which is largely devoid of artistic merit. While "Gypsy Love," the latest Pola Negri film, does not live up to the high standard set by the first foreign pictures, the majority is said by those who have seen them to be exceptionally good. In many respects, it can not be denied, the European directors are ahead of our directors over here. For instance, nothing has yet been produced in this country to compare with the artistic sets designed by a noted European modernist for "The Cabinet of Dr. Caligari." It could easily be done in Hollywood. We have plenty of artists in this country who could achieve equally good results. But the fact remains that it has not been done.

The moving picture people themselves are willing to admit this. It is not the artistic merit of the new foreign films to which they object, nor of which they are jealous. They have been eagerly viewed by actor and director folk, who are always open to suggestions for improving their own work. It is the cost of the pictures which they resent—a cost with which American industry cannot begin to compete. In this they see a real danger which threatens the livelihood of over 50,000 American bread-winners, and which eventually may turn this nation under the world's greatest producer of films, into its greatest film buyer.

Q. What is the meteoritic crater?

G. A. B.

A. In Arizona, not far from Winslow, there is a great hole in the earth, hundreds of feet deep and having almost perpendicular sides, which is known by this name because scientists believe it was made by a meteorite striking the earth and burying itself there. This hypothesis is supported by the fact that much meteoric material is found scattered about the vicinity. It is quite rich in platinum, and a company has been formed to drill at the bottom of the hole for the meteorite itself in order to obtain platinum.

Q. It is true that the famous French novelist, Zola, cured himself of obesity by not drinking water?

A. Zola, the biographer of Zola, records that Zola was very fat and that he reduced himself to possive emaciation by drinking no liquid with his meals, eating very little bread, and drinking as little as possible at any time.

Q. Is there any specific cure for poison oak? C. H. M.

A. The nearest thing to a specific cure for poison oak, or poison ivy, is a strong solution of bicarbonate of soda in hot water. If applied after exposure to the poison, but before the rash has appeared, this will usually prevent it. It will also help after the rash has appeared, but the affliction is not then easily cured. If one goes into the woods where the poison oak occurs, it is well to wash the face and hands in this solution as soon as possible afterward.

friend O'Connor at the time that Whitman was discharged from the Department of the Interior for having in his possession a copy of his own book, "Leaves of Grass." The book, which has subsequently become world famous and has been translated into many languages, was considered immoral by many Americans when it was first published. Secretary of the Interior Harlan found a copy of the book in Whitman's desk, read it, and discharged the poet. O'Connor wrote a pamphlet defending him.

Q. Why is buttermilk supposed to prolong human life? D. E.

A. The idea that the drinking of buttermilk prolongs human life was originated by a famous Russian scientist named Metchnikoff. He believed that the acid in the milk destroys the bacilli in the major intestine, which are a leading cause of sickness and death.

Q. Are more automobiles owned in the cities or in the country? C. S. P.

A. Figures published by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce show that in June 1919, the registration of cars by farmers was 2,468,475, while the total registration for the United States was 7,558,848. Thus the farmers, who make up nearly half of the population, own about a third of the cars, showing that the cities have the larger share in proportion to population.

Q. Under what circumstances is one eligible for the benefits of the Carnegie hero fund? M. W. Q.

A. In order to benefit by this fund it must be proved that the proposed beneficiary voluntarily risked his own life in saving or attempting to save the life of a fellow being, or voluntarily sacrificed himself in an heroic manner for the benefit of others. It is not given when the heroic act is done in the discharge of a regular vocational duty. It applies only to acts in the United States, Canada and Newfoundland, and they must be brought to the attention of the Commission within three years of the date of the act. Cash benefits not to exceed one thousand dollars a year in any one case are paid to persons disabled in such acts, and to the widows and children of those who lose their lives. The address of the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission is Oliver Building, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Q. Are natural gas and coal gas the same? V. J. K.

A. Natural gas and coal gas are both combustible gases, but are not identical. Natural gas is about 92 per cent methane. Coal gas is about 46 per cent hydrogen and 40 per cent methane.

Q. Kindly explain what is meant by the following sentence—"Christians are universally a dies non." J. E. M.

A. This is an abbreviation of "des non juridicus"—a phrase meaning "not a court day," that is, a day on which the courts cannot lawfully administer justice. The actual suspension of the operation of justice gives Christmas the character of a dies non.

Q. What do the letters S. O. S. mean when used as a wireless signal? W. E. V.

A. A great many people take it that the letters S. O. S. stand for "Save our Souls" or "Save our Ship", but according to naval authorities this abbreviation is used simply because of the fact that this particular combination of letters can be given more clearly and readily by radio in struments than any other.

THE BOOK OF MARTHA

Tragedy Closes In

"Are you all right, Mrs. Bob?"

The question came from the man who was supporting me above the crowd, whose body was shielding me from the pressure of that heavy weight of humanity. The query came in a voice I knew well; more than once had it comforted me in danger, most of all as tragedy seemed to close about me.

"Morrison!" I exclaimed. And I put both arms round the dear old detective's neck. With Daddy Lorimer's good friend, Daddy's daughter-in-law was safe in any emergency.

"That's right! Hold tight! Now you're safe, Mrs. Bob!"

By this time the firemen, police, deputy sheriffs and a few men in military uniform were directing a subdued and obedient populace.

What common sense had not done for the mob leaders, the fire which they themselves had set accomplished. They gave up the man hunt and hunted for their own safety.

I would have followed Morrison in to the jail but his subordinate kept a firm grasp upon my arm.

"Can't let you go, ma'am! Sorry! Just you trust the old man to look out for your lady friend!" He indicated the vanishing Morrison. "And watch! The prisoners are coming! Look!"

Out of the smoking building there came, a few walking quietly by twos, but most of them afraid and hys-

"Morrison! Don't help me! Help Ann! Jim's wife—you remember her! She's in there!"

But Morrison did not catch the dreadful import of my words.

"Ain't it just like that little neppert to follow a crowd into trouble? I ask you, ain't it?" was the detective's amused comment.

"But don't worry, Mrs. Bob! The firemen are driving 'em all out, and she'll come along with the others!"

"But she can't, Morrison! She's locked up in a cell!"

"Whazzat you say?" Morrison mumbled in his amazement. Then he handed me to a uniformed companion, muttered "I'm taking no chances," and dashed through the thinning procession into the burning jail.

terical. Out of the smoke they came, and they made a strange procession, those pretty ladies who had been trapped by the vice crusaders the night before. They were shepherded to some waiting trucks and autos, "to be transferred to another precinct," my companion informed me.

The spectators were securely packed back of the fire lines. The fire department had brought some kind of organization out of the inferno and chaos. The smoke from the women's prison grew denser and blacker. The procession of guarded women ended with those so hysterical that they had to be supported or carried.

And Ann Lorimer had not come out of that crackling furnace!

"The Prizes"

"You've got the pin, just as I feared!" declared Flippety-Flap to the camel. "Anyone who says he is never so comfortable as when he is uncomfortable needs to go in out of the sun. Come on, let's all go into the shade."

Caliph Camel was stubborn. "I don't want to," he insisted.

"Why not," asked the fairyman.

"Just what I told you. I'd be too comfortable. I like to get sizzling hot. It feels so awful!"

Nobody had any reply to this silly speech.

"Don't you want a drink?" asked Nick, pointing to the water-pool.

"I had a drink last week," said Caliph, sulkily.

"But aren't you hungry?" wondered Nancy. "Here's some nice juicy grass, and if you like, I'll climb a tree and get you some dates."

"Humph!" snorted the camel. "I ate last week, too. Besides, if I were hungry, there are whole bunches of camel-thorn growing out here in the sand. I can eat it."

"But do you like it? It looks so prickly."

"No, of course I don't like it; that's why I eat it. I eat enough to last for days. I've got two storage boxes on my back, as you may notice, that folks call humps. Indeed, it would be queer if you hadn't noticed, as they stick out as plainly as the ears on a rabbit. That's what humps are—storage boxes for forty dinners."

"Then I don't suppose we can coax you to go back?" said Nick sadly. "But it's no circus without a camel and we hoped you'd come."

"Thanks for askin'," replied Caliph Camel.

All this while Flippety-Flap had been busy. He took three bags out of his enormous shoes and laid them in a row on the ground.

"What's that," asked the camel.

"These are the prizes," answered Flippety-Flap mysteriously.

INSTALL CRANE IN NEW MOLOCH PLANT

Big Kaukauna Factory Nearing Completion—Class Play Goes Big.

Kaukauna—A crew of men is at work installing electric fixtures and putting in the trolleys for the cranes in the new Moloch plant on the north side. The plant probably will be ready for occupation in three weeks. The Kaukauna foundry cannot be moved into the new location until the cranes are installed and they will be set up as soon as the trolleys are completed.

The Moloch company is working on its second installation of the automatic stokers in Munising, Mich. The Appleton gas plant has been supplied recently and orders are now being filled for stokers for Appleton's auxiliary gas plant at Menasha.

Play Two Games
Kaukauna baseball club will get in two games this week and manager Jake Miller has offered to wager that the team will capture both games.

Sunday's lineup in the game with Appleton on the Crescent city grounds will be practically unchanged. The men have been practicing almost every night.

Oshkosh will visit this city Monday. Oshkosh has played only one game this season and lost that and it will not be much of a hardship to lose another. Stegeman has been working a good groove into his mitt so that he can hold the ball on the third strike.

Busy Bee Class
The Busy Bee class of Reformed church Sunday school held its regular social meeting at the home of Miss Laura Mau Tuesday evening. Refreshments were served after an evening of social enjoyment.

Play Goes off Well
A very commendable presentation of the high school senior class play, "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary," was given at the children's matinee Wednesday afternoon in the auditorium. All the characters took their parts well.

Evangeline Meyer as "Betty" and later as the maid made a very desirable mate for Jack, Aunt Mary's wild young nephew. Grace Brenzel as Aunt Mary took her part in a way that it was hard for one to think of her as anything but a rich old spinster.

Evelyn Beckstrom as Daisy Mullens was a scream. The way she depicted the ever pessimistic and "blue" old Daisy would have caused the grouchy old man in town to rock with laughter.

The play will be presented at 8 o'clock Thursday evening. Music will be furnished by the high school orchestra. The high school boys' glee club will sing and vocal solos will be given by Misses Elizabeth Donaldson and Cecelia Graf.

The earth from the site of the new addition to the Wisconsin Telephone Co.'s building is being hauled to the west end of Washington-st. which is to be connected up with the fair grounds.

Miss Minnie Fisher entertained six friends at a shower in honor of Miss Emily George Tuesday evening. The evening was spent in social entertainment after which a dainty lunch was served.

Kaukauna Personal
Mark Huber, Kaukauna's promising shortstop, left Wednesday for Nekeosa to act as best man at the wedding of his sister.

REBUILDING OF CANTON IS ONE OF WORLD'S WONDERS

Occidentals Find Old Time Theory Blasted by Chinese Rejuvenation.

BY CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL

Copyright, 1921, by Post Pub. Co.

Canton—As long as the European traveler has been taking a half-frightened peek at China, Canton has been his great and wonderful show place and the theme of his bragging and tales. Every year thousands of astonished folks from the occident have stared open-eyed at this most extraordinary human hive and gone away to talk of it the rest of their days.

With reason—the well-trodden tourist circuit had nothing to equal or approach it. More than 2,000,000 people dwell in an area properly large enough for 500,000 and dwell exactly as their ancestors had dwelt on the same spot a thousand years before. It was like a section of the Middle Ages dug up and preserved to add a unique zest to guide books and revenue to steamship companies. One in every four of these strange people lived in one of the sampans boats that, in a huge raft hung to the river front, the rest in quaint little houses, very old, very dirty, very dark, lining dark and damp little cracks that served them for streets.

These were so narrow that nothing on wheels could make a way through their hopeless maze and tangle, little alley overhung with the strange signs of strange shops, filled with half-naked sung songing coolies carrying burdens slung on poles or tourists in chairs, a wonderful babel of tongues but never a sound of a wheel, strange people, strange costumes, strange crafts and trades, strange smells of the cooking of strange dishes; and all the symbol and image of the China of tradition and the old books of travels. Come and see the comical old water clock with which they tell time; made about 500 A. D. Come and see the old gods and the old prayer papers. Come and see in a world of change the nations and the people always the same.

I remember, too, when Canton was far from safe for the visitor, when no European would dare to sleep there except upon that always guarded island that was the European concession. After sunset never a native was allowed on any pretext to cross or even enter upon that bridge, and before sunset only with an authenticated European pass and one at a time. On the land side was a great iron gate. At sunset it closed and a double file of white soldiers watched it, rifles in hand. You may see to this day the remains of that gate and even some persisting strands of barbed wire with which it was once so liberally adorned.

In those days, the old empire days, the visitor, (usually armed), was carried about Canton in a chair, and if he had any powers of observation knew that he was followed with the black looks of the people and their Chinese curses. As it was then so it would always be, for China never changed.

On one of my visits, about ten years ago, a Chinese friend, long resident, told me of certain marvelous great plans to rebuild this ratty old hive, to rebuild it on the best modern lines, to make it a new and handsome metropolis. Like a poor stago joke that seemed, and only as a joke or a dream any European received it. Rebuild Canton? How would you rebuild these forty square miles of ancient shacks, this net of interlaced alleys eight feet wide, these establishments that have existed since before the Normans landed in England. It would bankrupt any municipality in the world. And in China of all places! Conservative old China that never changes.

So thought we then and so thinks no man now. China never changes, said we of the contingent of wisdom. Go to Canton now and you will think that there, at least, it does nothing else. The world of this wild day of fers to the wandering sight see many things but nothing so strange as Canton. The joke has turned dead sober earnest, the dream has come true, the plans we scoffed at are actually being carried out, and old rattle trap Canton, once joy of the prating tourist is no more.

Right through the old swarming alleys and mole tracks they have plowed great new streets, 80 to 120 feet wide. On the water front, where formerly was but a row of moldy relics, is now a Bund two and a half miles long, planted with trees, lined with great modern buildings, one of the handsomest water sides in the world. The old city wall, eight miles in circumference, has been demolished and on its site they are building an avenue 120 feet wide that will be one of the beauties of the new city. Another will be a boulevard of the same width cut through from the railroad station (think of a railroad station in Canton) seven miles clear to the White Cloud mountain at the back of the city.

Ancient, germ-laden, age-mossy shacks have been swept off as a child sweeps blocks from a table. The steam roller, the pile driver and the concrete mixer are smothering over their vanished foundations.

From the top of a new sky scraper instead of from the old Five Starred Pagoda the tourist now looks out over Canton. He counts four great department stores as imposing as any in Europe; he observes new modern steel beam structures rising where the shacks have disappeared. He sees on the Bund a wonderful great hotel with a garden, a restaurant and a moving picture theatre on its roof; new stores of stone and concrete taking the places of the dingy little shops he used to know. Formerly through the heart of the city flowed an evil creek, an open ditch full of all uncleanness. Now it has been converted at its bottom all its length into a great covered sewerage system.

above which men are building one of those wide new boulevards. Only the eastern half of Canton has been touched so far, and yet it is but sober truth to say that already this has developed into the most tremendous transformation work ever undertaken in so short a time by any city anywhere. For the whole thing is only two years old. The cost has been staggering and will be worse than that, but Canton has not followed evil western examples to put upon itself a crushing debt burden. The expense is being met as it is incurred by the sale of lands that became public after the overthrow of the empire, by the recovery of estates and moneys appropriated from public possession and by a levy on the property owners whose land has been benefited in value by the improvements.

There is no doubt also that with the republic a new spirit has come upon the people. The foreigner is welcomed, coin in hand, of course, and no coin so esteemed as the American. But what seems of much more importance, the old human beast of burden idea is going with the ancient shack. The modern Cantonese is a pretty merry bird, he can joke and he can laugh, and these were rare elements in the old days. Also, he can usually read the daily newspapers, of which he supports the impossible number of forty in this community, and he can send his children to school where in the grammar and all higher grades they are taught English.

To crown all this, the city of Canton, former mediaeval rabbit warren and type of the changeless Asiatic, now looms before the world with the commission form of government modeled on the best that America has to offer. The governing body consists of eight commissioners, each the head of a city department. All these are comparatively young men. Six of them, please note, are graduates of American universities, and the others were educated in France. A modern board of health, one of these departments, presided over by a physician trained in America, has already begun to have a marked effect upon the city's sanitary condition.

Trained in America. Here is the final inspiration of all this. If we only knew and recognized the real power of America upon the rest of the world! It is the Chinese student returned from America who is remaking Canton. Just as he made the Chinese republic and if his visions about that too, comes right, will make it great. I have seen a lot of

WANT CITIZENS TO ATTEND FIELD DAY

Scouts Are Eagerly Rehearsing for Program at Jones Park Saturday.

Parents and friends of every boy scout in Appleton will be urged personally by the scouts to attend the field day contests from 2 to 5:15 Saturday afternoon in Jones park. An elaborate program is to be staged.

Scouts have been busy for days practicing their stunts. Their most difficult task is wall scaling. A high wall was erected several days ago in the park, and boys may be seen every afternoon and evening trying to reach the top and climb over in record time. "We want every person in Appleton who can spare a few hours Saturday afternoon to attend the field day exercises," said E. R. Henderson, scout executive. "The boys have gone through some wonderful preparation and hard work and will be disappointed if there is not a large crowd to witness the events. Appleton people can gain a very good idea of what we are doing if they will be present."

Flag raising, drills, signaling, wall scaling, first aid contest, games, fire building, races and other activities are included in the program. Three attractive prizes are to be awarded the winners.

HOLSTEINS HERE FOR BIG AUCTION

Most of the purebred Holsteins to be auctioned at the first annual consignment sale of the Outagamie County Holstein Breeders association at 10 o'clock Friday morning at Outagamie Equity exchange grounds arrived in the city during the day and are stabled in the cabbage warehouse. There is every evidence that the attendance will break all records. Farmers in all parts of the county are talking about the sale and planning to attend. Large delegations also are expected from Shawano, Langlade, Oneida, Marinette and other northern counties.

Much of the responsibility for successful promotion of the sale rests on the shoulders of Paul O. Nyhus, farm agent of the First National bank, whom the association appointed as sales director. Most of the correspondence has been handled from his office and the pedigree material for the catalog was collected by him. Demand for the catalogs has been brisk. S. E. Cook, Unity and Levi Jones, Oshkosh, are to be ring men at the sale. L. O. Wissman, First National bank, is to be cashier.

Several local fishermen are planning to leave Saturday for northern trout streams where they will spend Sunday and Memorial day. Most of them will make the trip in automobiles.

SHOES GOT TOO LARGE BUT SHE DIDN'T MIND

"See, these shoes are much too large for me now," said Mrs. Minnie Green, 145 6th-st., Milwaukee, Saturday. "Little did I think Kozak would touch my rheumatism as I took it for my stomach trouble, night sweats and run down condition. To my utter astonishment, Kozak not only banished my stomach trouble, built up my system but drove out my rheumatism, which I had suffered from for eight years without getting relief. The swelling in my hands and feet went down as you can see by these shoes. Before I found Kozak I suffered constantly from gas on my stomach, hot flashes and sleeplessness. "Kozak gave me a fine appetite, my food digests properly and I sleep very well. All my old troubles have gone and I feel so good. I am now writing about my recovery as she too needs Kozak." Sold only by Schintz Bros. Kaukauna Drug Co.; Seymour, Mo.; Cord; New London, Spearbreaker. adv.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if two bottles of Allenru, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment. Allenru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiable and where the patient was helpless. Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenru, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenru decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed Schintz Bros. Co. Vogt's Drug Store, Union Pharmacy to guarantee it in every instance. adv.

EXPECT TO RAISE MILLION IN A DAY

Chairman Keller Believes Catholic Drive Will Be Accomplished Easily.

Reports from every dean and deanery indicate that the million dollar drive for Catholic institutions and charities will "go over the top" without any hesitation on Monday, June 6, according to Gustave Keller, campaign chairman. Every parish has been thoroughly organized with a central committee, captains and team workers, who are ready to canvass the membership of each Catholic church.

Everybody will have opportunity to make a voluntary contribution. Pledge cards offering a plan of payment extending over three years if desired, have been mailed to prospective contributors. The committees request that each family decide what its contribution will be and return the card before the day of the drive. This will reduce the work of the collectors to a minimum, making it necessary to call only on those whose cards did not come back.

"A million dollars seems like a staggering sum to raise," said Mr. Keller, "but it means only 5 cents a day for each member of the churches of the diocese for three years. I have heard from each of the 14 deaneries and am confident we will go over the top on June 6. I hope to be able to cable that information to Bishop Paul Peter Rhode at that time."

Friends of Bishop Rhode have received postal cards from him since he set sail for Rome on his pilgrimage to give the pope an account of his work. The bishop has visited London and points in France, where he is making a study of European conditions.

The major part of the million dollar fund will be used for buildings, equipment or maintenance of such institutions as St. Francis seminary, Milwaukee, St. Joseph Orphan Asylum and McCormick Old People's hospital, Home of the Good Shepherd, Home for Foundlings, hospitals and other institutions.

The camp is open to all boys over 14 years old who want good jobs during vacation and summer outing at the same time and who will live up to the camp requirements.

Camp Goff, the finest of all the Door-co cherry camps, is located on one of the highest points in the county. Buildings erected especially for the purpose provide the best of sleeping quarters and dining room facilities. The best leadership possible will be provided to keep the boys entertained.

Club Gets Opinion Of Youngsters On Movies

Appleton school children of the upper grades and the high school are filling out questionnaires this week prepared by the movie committee of Appleton Women's club. An effort is being made by the club to determine whether the children attend movies unchaperoned, what kind of movies they prefer and how often they attend.

The questions are as follows:
Do you attend the movies? How many times a week? Afternoons? Evenings? First show? Second show? How old were you when you first went to the movies? Did you go alone? What kind of movies do you like best, animals, adventure, animated cartoons, babies, current events, detective, educational, funny, fighting, fairy tales, hunting, historical, Indians, killing, kissing and love-making, shooting, society, sad (sob), travel scenes, war scenes, wild west?

Which do you remember longest? Do you like the pictures of children only? How much do you spend on movies a month? When you go alone or with other children are you ever asked your age? Do you attend vaudeville shows? How often? Do you frequently attend movies unchaperoned? With a friend? How old is your friend? Do the movies need censorship or are they all right?

15 LAWRENCE MEN ARE ENTERED IN COLLEGIATE MEET

Lawrence confident of winning places in runs and field events.

Lawrence college has entered 15 men in the intercollegiate track and field meet at Beloit college Saturday afternoon. Final workouts will be given the men on Thursday and they expect to leave Friday for the battle ground.

Captain H. D. McChesney's hopes were considerably strengthened by the showing of his athletes in the meet with Oshkosh Normal last week. First place winners were not pushed hard, especially in the field events and he believes they can do much better than their marks here indicate.

Wheeler is counted on a sure point winner in the javelin throw and Hootley should finish well among the leaders in the mile and half mile runs. Gorman and Doering are fast sprinters and Williams is expected to go strong in the hurdles.

Smith had been counted on as point getter in the weights but his marks of late have not been as good as anticipated. There are hopes however, that his form will improve sufficiently to place him among the leaders.

Two Lawrence men, Mundelhenke and Anderson have been entered in the tennis tournament which is to be held on Friday. They are regarded as the best net men in the college.

Had To Fight To Get In College

At the beginning, Fate put an obstacle in the way of August Desch, star Notre Dame sprinter. But Desch overcame it. And then Fate took him by the hand and led him on a rapid trip to fame.

Back in 1919 he wanted to enter Notre Dame College. A graduate who had been from Newark, N. J., Desch's home town, wired the college that a track star from the Paulist A. C. was coming on.

He went anyway. Notre Dame was crowded and the reply said, "No room, don't send him." But Desch went anyway.

He was a likable sort of chap and the college authorities finally found room for him.

In his first year he starred as a football player. Then he joined the track team and the report was soon circulated that "this Desch is going to be a 'wiz'."

Before his first year was up he had tied the world's record in the 40-yard indoor low hurdles. Then the Olympic tryouts in the east came and Desch tied the 440-yard, 3-foot hurdle record.

At the Olympic games he took third place in the 400-meter low hurdles, following the two great runners, Loomis and Norton across the bars.

Breaks World's Records. On April 23, 1921, he broke into the real limelight. He had kept in hurdle practice and entered in the 440 low hurdle race at the Pennsylvania race meet at Philadelphia.

The first race of the day saw Desch shatter the world's record. One watch caught him at 53.35, another at 53.45 and the third at 54. The middle mark was credited and that topped 2.5 of a second off the record of Jack Watt, Cornell runner made last year.

Just recently his junior class elected him president, unanimously. Now he wants to take George Gipp's place on the football team.

And, at the moment, Desch muses, "Such is life. When I came to school I had to jimmy my way in now they have elected me class president."

WILCOX CONFIDENT AS RACE APPROACHES

Memorial Day Battle on Indianapolis Speedway to Be Fastest in History.

By "Howdy" Wilcox. Indianapolis, Ind. — We are ready for the 500 mile race which will be held next Monday on the Indianapolis motor speedway. That is, we are as near ready as any racing driver is ever ready. As every good mechanic knows there is always the feeling that with more time it would be, or at least might be, possible to lighten a spring here and tighten an adjustment there that would produce a fraction of a mile more speed.

I have driven a car in every long distance classic on the Indianapolis track. Only one other man entered in the race has been in as many races here as myself and he is Ralph Mulford. Basing my plans upon previous experience, I have prepared my car with more attention and care than ever before because I am confident that the race next Monday will be the greatest international speed battle of all time. I have never seen as many good and fast cars assembled for one race. With anything like favorable, cool weather to help the tires in the long grind this race should be the fastest contest ever staged at the gruelling distance of 500 miles.

We have absolute confidence in our car. We feel that we have the necessary reserve power of speed but far and above that we have supreme confidence in the staying qualities and the finishing ability of our simple four cylinder Peugeot.

The car is almost an exact duplicate of the sturdy car which carried me to victory in 1919. We enter the time trials Friday confident.

$750,000 PAID IN FOR FIGHT TICKETS

Rickard Calls for Plans to Enlarge Stadium for Title Match.

New York.—Tex Rickard hasn't received official permission for his Dempsey-Carpenter spectacle in Jersey City July 2, but he is not worried.

Just a little delay at the printer's shop where the New Jersey state commission is having a new model license built, has prevented the officials from handing Rickard the key. The arena is more than half built and if no bad weather is encountered the contractors say they will turn the plant over to Rickard about June 15.

Demand for tickets has been so heavy that Rickard called the contractors in to talk over an enlargement of the stadium that would make it big enough for 100,000 spectators. Lumber has been doing a little mounting since the contract was awarded and when Rickard found it would cost him four dollars each to build more five dollar seats, he called off the plans.

Cash on hand in Rickard's bank is now at the three quarter million mark and Tex is naturally feeling good that the receipts were exceeding the Dempsey-Willard gate. Very few choice seats are now on sale at Madison Square Garden. Vast blocks have been grabbed by scalpers who won't even listen to a bid of $100 for a $50 piece of pasteboard.

Sport Views And News

General regret is expressed because Appleton high school will not be officially represented at the state interscholastic track and field meet in Madison next Saturday. It has been definitely announced that insufficient money will prevent the local school from sending athletes. This is particularly deplorable because Appleton stood an excellent chance of earning more athletic laurels. The team made a splendid showing here last Saturday and was expected to duplicate its performance. There is a possibility that several boys will go down at their own expense and uphold the honor of the local school.

Bob Martin, ex-soldier, who has been cutting quite a figure among the contenders in the heavyweight fight-ers' division, came pretty close to a quick knockout record the other night in Columbus when he put the skids under Ned Carpenter in about a half minute. The fighter on the receiving end of Martin's wallop was supposed to have been a Racine product.

How the mighty have fallen! Look at poor Cincinnati at the bottom of the heap in the National league. The mighty Redlegs of two years ago haven't shown a thing this season. Pat Moran's crew seems to have been shot to pieces and despite the fact that some of the hold-out stars have returned to the field, they just can't seem to get going on the road to victory. The Reds' invasion of the East has been a fizzle and they have been getting trimmed with due regularity. It won't be long now before the Cincinnati fans are yelping for a change in management and demanding new life in the team.

Will be followed Thursday by the challenger. He will do a little road work and exercise in the gymnasium but will not do any boxing for at least another week.

The coffee crop from a full grown tree may amount to two pounds, three times a year.

JACK'S REACH IS BIG ADVANTAGE IN TITLE FIGHT

Carpenter Will Find It Hard to Land on His Long Armed Opponent.

BY JOHNNY KILBANE, Featherweight Champion. Jack Dempsey outreaches Georges Carpenter. This gives him a tremendous advantage over the Frenchman in the battle July 2.

For a half-inch greater reach in boxing is the same as a 10-yard start in a 100-yard dash or a quarter mile handicap in a running race.

It means that the swings of the man with the shorter reach will fall short—that if he is up against a clever boxer who is adept at blocking, he will scarcely be able to land a punch.

It means that in simultaneous exchanges the drive of the man with the longer reach will land before the punch of his opponent arrives—and in a go between heavyweights wallops are so heavy that a few blows may decide the fight.

Practically Helpless. It means that the man with the shorter arms is practically helpless at all stages of the game before his longer reaching antagonist. The only way he could win would be to throw his caution—and 99 per cent of his chances—into the discard and wade in with the hope that Fate might aid him in slipping over a lucky clip to the chin or stomach for a kayo.

Look over the list of top-notch fighters of today and you'll find that practically all of the boys who stand at the head of their divisions are tall, rangy fellows. And they will tell you frankly that they get there by their ability to outreach the other fellow and beat them to the punch.

Leonard, Britton, Lynch. There's Benny Leonard among the lightweights and Jack Britton among the welters. Joe Lynch in the bantam class is one of the bean-pole types.

Most of my own success in the feather class has been due to the fact that I have a long reach and that I'm taller and rangier than most of the boys who can make the weight.

Carpenter far outshines Dempsey in speed, but with a shorter reach he'll go into the ring under a big handicap.

YEGGS CUT CEILING TO GET IN JEWELRY STORE

By United Press Leased Wire. Minneapolis.—Practically the entire stock of the Howard Jewelry company was stolen Tuesday night. It was valued at $20,000.

Holes drilled through the ceiling from a hotel room upstairs enabled the robbers to gain entrance. It was one of the most carefully planned robberies in months. More than 200 holes were drilled through the hardwood floor and beams of the hotel room.

Yeggs last night blew the safe of the Minnehaha Creamery company and escaped with $2,900.

It is said Yellowstone Park contains more geysers than are on the rest of the earth's surface.

KUNITZ MAKES ANNUAL SWIM A WEEK EARLIER

Oscar Kunitz violated his precedent of many years several days ago by taking his annual swim across the Fox river and back fully a week earlier than usual. Mr. Kunitz usually plans for his first swim Memorial day, but says the water was warm and delightful at this early date.

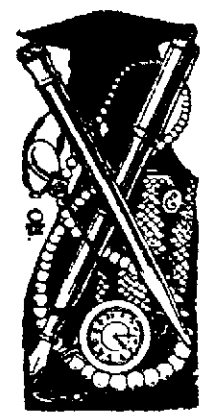

The swimmer chooses a point near the Fox River Paper company's plant, where the river is wide. He swims across and without taking a second's rest, turns about and makes the return trip.

"I was pretty lame after my big swim this year," said Mr. Kunitz, "but the water was fine and I enjoyed it. I guess it is harder work because I am getting older."

Mrs. Eleanor Mehl Berger sang a solo and Dr. Plants gave a short address. Special music was furnished by the Lawrence Conservatory Male quartet.

FONDY OLD-TIMERS LOSE TO APPLETON

Appleton "Over 50 club" was more than a match for Fondy du Lac's "Old Time" volleyball players. The Crescent city veterans won two out of three games from the Old-Timers in Fondy du Lac Wednesday night, thereby establishing their right to the permanent possession of the loving "mug."

The hosts were so confident of an overwhelming victory that they did not even bring the cup to the scene of the battle and they will be obliged to send it because the members of the Appleton club insisted on keeping the mug as a "happy reminder of their superiority over the Old-Timers."

Fondy du Lac took the first game of the evening causing manifestations of great hilarity on the part of the audience. The score was 12 to 21. The visitors "buckled up" and won the last two games. The scores were 21-18 and 21-19 respectively.
